NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 4, 1863.

THE CROWN LANDS COMMITTEE.

The papers prepared for the use of the Delegate sent to England last autumn by the sister Colony contained strong and sweeping charges against the officials for having become possessed of large and valuable tracts of the public domain through improper and corrupt means. The charge was viewed both here and at home as, to say the least, an exaggeration, and, in some quarters, injured the cause it was designed to promote. Few men who have read an account of the recent proceedings in the House of Assembly, growing out of the refusal of the Acting Surveyor General to furnish the Crown Lands Committee with required information, will longer hesitate to believe the truth of that charge in its broadest and worst sense. The Governor and the Colonial Secretary have acted precisely as guilty men would naturally do under the circumstances, and it is impossible, even for the most charitably disposed, to account for their conduct upon other ground than that of guilt. Strong suspicion has long rested upon the Island Government respecting many of their land speculations, and the appointment of a Committee by the House to investigate the subject afforded an excellent opportunity, of which, had they been innocent, they would have been but too glad to take advantage, to clear themselves before the public from these unpleasant and damaging suspicions; and in order to attain that object every possible facility would have been willingly afforded the Committee. But what is the fact? No sooner is the Committee constituted than a notice is served upon the Acting Surveyor General, the very object and effect of which was to prevent that Committee from obtaining information essential to the discharge of their duty. That officer is pressed by the Committee to produce maps and books; he declines to do so—leaves the Committee abruptly—keeps them waiting for his return—apprises his master of the predicament—the Governor, with the most indecent haste, summons a meeting of Council, swears in his tool as a member of that Council, and, snapping his fingers at the Committee and the House in exulting defiance, informs them that the Surveyor General is now proof against any unpleasant inquiries which may be made! Is such conduct proof of guilt or is it not? It is more. The conduct to which the Governor has stooped in order to smother up the mass of corruption in the Crown Lands Department is not only unmistakable evidence of guilt, but it is perfectly disgraceful in its low trickery and undignified cunning. It now remains to be seen whether the House of Assembly will submit to be "bagged" so ignobly by a tricky Governor, and rendered perfectly helpless for the discharge of their public duty in a most important investigation. If they do tamely submit to such insulting chicanery they richly deserve to be ruled by a tyrant and plundered by an unscrupulous pack of official cormorants.

THE "KABAR," OR COUNCIL OF WAR OF THE KINGDOM OF MADAGASCAR.—"When the Malgaches desire to discuss a question of peace or war the chiefs convoke the populations and all the armed men, who generally assemble under large trees, against which lean the chiefs, surrounded by the warriors, seated or standing in a circle, and armed with their lances, which they keep in front of them. It is thus that they together hold council, or kabar, and it is customary to record the decisions of the kabar upon parchment during the assembly. It is a curious sight to see these troops of men, armed with lances and quindly dressed, proceeding in order to the place of meeting; and when they are assembled together, and the subjects of interest are discussed, each endeavours to give his opinion, but with an appearance of order and seriousness not easily imagined. The principal chief advances first, and speaks standing; but those who reply to him, or confirm his opinion, speak from their places, much ceremony being observed throughout the proceedings. The ordinary costume of the authorities of Madagascar is sometimes replaced by the red and gold uniform of English officers which the chiefs don with great pride. This spirit of imitation, to which even the Court of the new Queen of Madagascar appears to be yielding will no doubt be productive of good results, especially as the commercial and political relations of France and England with this "island of the Indian Ocean" are becoming daily of greater and greater importance."—*Lon. NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 4, 1863.

ARRIVAL OF THE GOLD ESCORT.

This ill-starred institution arrived in a canoe from Douglas yesterday, bringing only sixty-eight thousand dollars in treasure! What a farce. The few friends of the thing could not conceal their disappointment when the result of the first trip was made known; but they very naturally sought consolation in the idea that a bad beginning might make a good ending—that they would bring more and more by each successive trip; and that, as a whole, it might turn out passably well. But how miserably have they been disappointed. The beginning was bad enough, in all conscience; but the ending is even worse. Badly as we esteemed the institution we confess it has turned out worse than we either anticipated or predicted. We can easily conceive that a new organization of the character of a gold Escort would not at first command public confidence; but one would naturally expect that, as confidence is a plant of slow growth, it would grow, and, after making one or two successful trips, the miners and traders would consider a Government Escort at least as reliable and efficient a medium for the transmission of treasure as a private Express or private carriers. But that such has not been the case in respect of the notorious institution of which we now write witness the fact that they have not carried as much treasure by one-half as several traders have respectively done during the same period, and not one-fourth as much as Mr. Barnard's Express. Here, then, we have a case of private enterprise vs. Government mismanagement and stupidity with a vengeance.

It will yet be fresh in the minds of the public how the Victoria papers puffed the thing; what glowing descriptions they gave of its success—the millions of treasure, that could not be got down without it—how anxious the miners and traders were for such an institution, and how eagerly they would avail themselves of its numerous advantages—how, in short, it would save life and property, dispel dull times and put a mint of money in circulation in Victoria. How far their golden dreams have been realized we leave them to answer—we can read the answer in the lengthened visage and reticent pen. How will our contemporaries explain such a pitiful finale to their darling scheme? The Chamber of Commerce pressed the Government to establish it; and they estimated its cost at $44,000, while they put down its earnings at $55,000!! If their powers of calculation are no more reliable when applied to their own legitimate business we tremble for their creditors. The expense to the Colony of this miserable, asinine experiment cannot possibly fall under $60,000, while its earnings have fallen considerably short of nine thousand dollars!!!!!! How will the Governor satisfy the Duke of Newcastle respecting the $51,000 deficiency? The people protested against the expenditure; we protested against it in the name of the people; and yet, at the seeking of a few traders in another Colony it was forced upon us; and we must pay the bill, although no value has been received for it.

How could it be expected that the Escort would command confidence? Look at the management of the thing from the very first day they displayed their rusty swords and awkward map-makers to the infinite amusement of the population, both European and aboriginal. It has been intended to make the impression that the treasure brought down by the Escort is guarded by a force of fifteen armed men. Such, however, is far from being the fact. The force, with the exception of the first trip, has been divided and struggling, some here and some there, looking after ranches, taking care of horses, &c. Twice the treasure has been conveyed from Douglas to this place in Indian canoes, crossing Harrison Lake, which is liable to frequent and sudden storms which not unfrequently delay the steamers. This last trip they remained several days at Douglas and then left in Indian canoes, meeting the steamer in the slough about a mile and a half out of Douglas, and were passed by her at the mouth of Harrison River. No individual would think of taking the risk of crossing the lake at this season of the year with any considerable amount of treasure in a canoe, and yet these men foolishly and needlessly risk $68,000 of treasure entrusted to them. This Escort has not only involved the Colony in a loss of over $50,000, but it has injured the character of the Colony abroad, for by the amount of treasure brought down by it people at a distance will assuredly judge of the gross yield of our gold fields. They cannot be supposed to understand the reasons why the great bulk of the treasure has not been entrusted to it, and nothing we can write would convince them that the amount brought down by it does not represent, approximately at least, the yield of the mines, whereas it does not represent more than five per cent of it. From whatever point of view this subject is considered it is evident that the Escort has proved a disastrous experiment to the Colony; and the people of New Westminster especially may congratulate themselves upon the stand they took and the resolutions they passed at a mass meeting in the Hyack Hall in May last.

Important to Business Men in Victoria, California, Portland, and Places on the Sound!

The British Columbian.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 4, 1863.

AGRICULTURE.

Careful, systematized agriculture, in its varied ramifications, has done as much to raise the celebrity of the British Isles as has the Spinning Jenny by Arkwright, or the Steam Engine by Watt. What is due to Darwin for his successful efforts in improving horned cattle? And to Bakewell for his sheep? And to many country gentlemen for the innumerable horses of England? Darwin is the original cause of the bulls of Britain improving the herds the world over, and Bakewell of the thousands of the most skilled manufacturers of all nations attending the annual wool-sales in London.

British Columbia possesses soils and climate even more favorable than the British Isles for maintaining and enriching herself by these great national achievements—accomplished to her hand. The settler in British Columbia, denuded of connexion and former friendships, at his work with the hoe, the spade or the plough, would feel himself a solitary being in the wilderness, and perhaps only dream of the noble examples of success in agriculture that have gone before him. But he is rescued from his loneliness and rallied into new life when a bright opening presents itself by which he can, with the most slender means, become an associate of the distinguished agriculturists of the age, and an aspirant for agricultural honors and distinctions. The Agricultural Association just established here is a dawn of advancing cheerfulness in the Colony; and the newest settler as well as the established farmer can now, by enrolling himself, for two dollars, secure a share of the best agricultural seeds of Europe and elsewhere in time for next spring's sowing.

The soils and climate of British Columbia are such as not only to invite competition for excellent specimens at periodical shows, but encourage agricultural progress and pursuits. The Colony has also, and will have until the auriferous Rocky Mountains are levelled, a market within itself sufficient to consume the produce of a large population. She now imports and consumes nearly two million dollars worth of agricultural products annually, supplied almost entirely by foreign countries; and these are burdened with inordinate imports via Victoria, V. I., the whole paid for out of the gold mines. Thus, in 1862:

Bread stuffs alone amounted to	$300,000.
Barley, oats and wheat	70,000.
Dairy Produce—Butter and Cheese	60,000.
Bacon, hams, pork and lard	145,000.
Oxen, cows, bulls & calves, 5,730 head	320,000.
Horses and mules, 6,430 head	600,000.
Sheep	50,000.

and other articles, for the production of which this Colony is admirably adapted, amounting to nearly two million of dollars.

This home market is within the farmer's reach without requiring him, as in many parts, to look abroad and study the arts and caprices of purchasers for exportation. It is intended the efforts of the association will be devoted to the improvement of stock, &c., during the second and subsequent years, but the first effort, it was thought, would be most profitably devoted to the procurement of such seeds as are not available to the farmer here. Everything must have a beginning; and the modest and unostentatious commencement made by the association alluded to is strikingly analogous to the origin of more than one world renowned institution. Every Colonist has now an opportunity of sharing the honor of being an "original member" of the first organization of the kind in this Colony.

Municipal Council.

Council Chamber, Monday evening, November 2nd, 1863.

Present, the President, Councillors Holbrook, Manson, Brown, Armstrong, Claudet, Ross, Robson and Clarkson. The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

A communication was read from the Colonial Secretary, stating that owing to the immediate discharge of the Royal Engineers they would be unable to complete that roadway from the Camp, but His Excellency would take the request of the Council into his favorable consideration. A communication was read from Messrs. MacLure and Turnbull making application for the appointment of City Surveyors. A communication was read from Mr. John Cooper, tendering his resignation as Councillor for Ward No. 4 of this city. His resignation was accepted accompanied by remarks of regret at his loss, and the Clerk was instructed to notify C. Brew, Esq., of the vacancy so that he might call an election. Several other communications respecting matters of less public interest were read and disposed of. The work on that portion of Columbia street lying between Begbie and Douglas streets, and for which a tender from a Mr. Ross had been accepted a week previously, was laid over for an indefinite period for lack of funds. The Committee on the Fire Prevention By-Law reported the By-Law with certain amendments. The Council went into a Committee of the Whole upon this By-Law, when it was discussed, slightly amended, read a third time and adopted, and ordered to be transmitted to His Excellency the Governor for his sanction. Specifications were read for the following work: to improve and extend Ellice street, to construct a roadway 30 feet wide along the Royal Avenue from Mary to Douglas streets, to grade Blackwood street, to construct a side-walk on Mary street from Columbia street to the Royal Avenue. The Board of Works were authorized to have certain work done on the upper end of Douglas street, to institute legal proceedings for the recovery of all taxes remaining unpaid. A resolution was passed requesting the President to apply to the Government for the purpose of obtaining possession of the Pile-driver at the Royal Engineers' Camp. It was moved by Councillor Manson, seconded by Councillor Holbrook, and resolved, that the President of this Council be requested to communicate with the Government and request that the rifles belonging to the Royal Engineers be left in the possession of the Colonial Government with a view to the formation of a volunteer corps, also any other material necessary for the proper organization of such corps. Carried.

Moved by Councillor Clarkson, seconded by Councillor Armstrong, and resolved, that this Council view with alarm the increase of the number of Indians who parade the streets of this city after nightfall, and that the Clerk be instructed to call the attention of C. Brew, Esq., C. I. P., to the necessity of having them kept out of the inhabited portion of the town after nightfall, as they are a nuisance to the respectable portion of the citizens—carried.

Moved by Councillor Robson, seconded by Councillor Clarkson, and resolved, that in view of the alarming loss of life upon the Lower Fraser, consequent upon the unprotected state of the steamers and the total absence of the usual appliances for the recovery of persons falling overboard, the President be and is hereby requested to communicate with the Government, urging the necessity of enforcing proper protective measures—carried.

A somewhat lengthy discussion arose upon these specifications, caused by an attempt on the part of certain Councillors to link on another section extending from Douglas to Ellice street. This was opposed as unconstitutional, no previous notice of motion having been given. The movement having been ruled out of order by the President, Councillor Manson called for a division to be taken upon the motion for the adoption of the specifications, the ayes and nays to be taken down. The following is the division: Ayes, Claudet, Robson, Clarkson and Armstrong. Nays, Holbrook, Brown, Ross and Manson. There being a tie vote the President gave his casting vote with the ayes, so that the specifications were adopted, and a miserable attempt to obstruct necessary work, because the Council would not consent to have an important rule violated, was defeated.

THE MEETING TO-NIGHT.—Every man, woman and child—leave the children at home, would do well to go early to the Hyack Hall this evening in order to secure eligible seats. The cause of the British and Foreign Bible Society is a good one, and has strong claims upon all who read any of the one hundred and sixty-three languages into which the Holy Scriptures have been translated through its instrumentality. But beyond the cause—apart from the claims of this wonderful Society, the talents of the Agent, as a lecturer, entitle him to, and secure him, crowds wherever he appears upon the platform. In this out-of-the-way part of the world the visits of such personages are too rare to admit of our missing such a treat as we know from experience to be in store for those who visit the Hall this evening. One not unimportant consideration is that admission to the meeting is free to all!

THE STR. "RELANCE" arrived from Yale last evening, having on board 125 passengers, amongst whom were Judge Begbie, Lawyer Walker and Registrar Matthew. Many of the passengers had considerable sums of gold, amounting, as nearly as we could ascertain, to $80,000.

ARRIVAL OF THE F.A.G. END.—It appears the Escort left Douglas in two canoes, one of which reached this city yesterday morning, but the other, missing the channel amongst the islands above Langley, got aground in a slough and remained several hours hard and fast. They finally got off, and making their way back to the river, arrived late last night. Poor fellows.

DEAD.—The German who cut his throat in a fit of insanity a few weeks ago, while riding down from the mouth of Quesnelle in the Express wagon, died a week ago yesterday at the 59 mile post. His dust, amounting to $2,800, lies in Mr. Barnard's Express safe at Yale.

CUSTOM RECEIPTS for week ending 31st. Oct. 1863: Duties, £582 12 3; harbor dues, £25 16; headmoney, £13; tonnage dues, £34 6. Total, £675 14 3.

MORE TREASURE.—The St. Flying Dutchman arrived from Douglas on Monday bringing DIETZ & NELSON'S EXPRESS with $10,000, in treasure. There was about $25,000, in private hands, which, together with that brought down by the Escort and by the Reliance last night, makes $183,000 this week.

THE AUCTION SALE at the R. E. Camp yesterday was tolerably well attended and satisfactory prices were obtained.

JUDICIAL MURDERS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.—The correspondent of a morning contemporary gives an account of the hanging of seven of the natives of the Lamalcha tribe, in British Columbia, stating that there is a feeling in the colony that they have not had a fair trial, and are executed out of vengeance. He says that by the news brought by last mail, it appears that a man named Marks was, with his daughter, murdered while making his way in a canoe, and with a view to apprehend the murderers a gunboat was sent up the river, having on board a police-superintendent to act as interpreter, and to assist in the apprehension of the parties. On arrival at the native villages the inhabitants were ordered on board to be examined, and they either refused, or, as is asserted, did not comprehend the order, upon which the gunboat opened fire, which was returned by a villagers, and a boy on board the gunboat killed. After this a number of the natives were apprehended, and upon examination committed for trial, a special commission being issued for the purpose. There was the double crime to answer for, viz., the murder of Mr. and Miss Marks and the resistance to the gunboat, and there can be no doubt that all fair means should have been taken to punish the murderers; but there appears to have been little evidence except what was obtained by statements made by the prisoners themselves, who appear to have been separated and put under pressure for the purpose. The papers containing an account of the trial have not come to hand, and it is feared, may have been intercepted, as they contain a strong expression of feeling against the mode of conducting the trial, as well as of carrying out the sentence. It appears that notwithstanding a strong recommendation to mercy from the jury these men were hurriedly hanged, and that it has caused great excitement in the colony. The writer of the letter adds: "After the noble stand made by Lord Canning in India to exclude the feeling of vengeance and intimidation from the administration of criminal law, it is lamentable to find a different course adopted in this case, when there can be no plea for urgency or dread of danger. If these men have been hanged merely as an act of expediency and vengeance, it is to be hoped that the Duke of Newcastle will take steps to prevent a repetition of such a mockery, and at any rate that he will cause a searching inquiry to be made as to the wholesale hanging, contrary to the recommendation of the jury."—London Times.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance when ever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Files, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferers themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the printed instructions. It should be well rubbed upon the neighboring parts, when all obnoxious matter will be removed. A poultice of bread and water may sometimes be applied at bed time with advantage; and most scrupulous cleanliness must be observed. If those who read this paragraph will bring it under the notice of each of their acquaintances whom it may concern, they will render a service that will never be forgotten, as a cure is certain.

Rheumatism, Gout & Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subduing pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravities from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be effected, even under the worst circumstances, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm & other Skin Diseases.

After fomentation with warm water, utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, by the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that nearly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach, consequently, in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Pills. The general health will be readily improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should not be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps & all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat; this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Serofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more suitable than any other remedy for all complaints of a serofulous nature. As the blood is impure the liver, stomach and bowels, being much deranged, require purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Contracted and Stiff Joints.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Elephantiasis.	Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Gout.	Sore-throats.
Bunions.	Glandular Swellings.	Skin-diseases.
Bite of Mosquitoes.	Lumbago.	Scurvy.
and San-Francisco.	Piles.	Sore-heads.
Coccy-bay.	Rheumatism.	Tumors.
Chicago-foot.		Ulcers.
Corns (soft).		Wounds.
Cancers.		Yaws.
Chilblains.

Poetry.

"Carpe Diem."

The morning sun is trembling on the stream;
The green leaves wave in the cool morning air;
Nature uncovers to the welcome beam,
And every sight is fair.

Earth is not now, as it hath lately been,
In winter's dull ice-woven fetters bound;
Flowers of all hues put on their lustrous sheen;
Sweet odors float around.

And birds of every wing and every note
Pleasantly utter in the pleasant groves,
Warbling together from melodious throat
The story of their loves.

No storms will darken o'er the azure way;
Nothing will hide the sunlight's merry march;
Heaven will o'erhang the revelling earth to-day
One blue unclouded arch.

To-morrow may be dark with rain and gloom—
Fear not, but take with thanks the present hour;
To-day all pleasures in profusion bloom;
To-day no tempests lower.

Full wisely hath the all-foreseeing Heaven
Hid coming sorrows from our anxious eye,
And bidden in front a cloud, where man hath striven
To read his destiny.

For if he could behold the advancing years,
And evil shadows following in their train,
Things that are brightest would beget but tears,
And double future pain.

—Blackwood's Magazine.

SKEDADDLERS.—The Brockville (Canada) Recorder says:—"On Friday afternoon last the steamer Bay State touched at Brockville, from Ogdens-burg, having on board some 60 or 70 draughted and enlisted men for the American army, on their route westward. As soon as the vessel touched the wharf, one of the intended soldiers jumped upon the wharf and exclaimed, "Abe Lincoln may be—, I care nothing for him now." Some of the non-commissioned officers in charge did not relish this style of leave-taking, consequently followed the skeddaddler, and did their best to get him to return to his duty. This he resolutely refused to do, when he was knocked down by a corporal or sergeant, and then seized for the purpose of being carried on board the steamer.
This summary process, it appears, did not meet the approbation of several roughs around the wharf, who immediately fell foul of the American officers and a regular free fight ensued. Several severe blows were dealt, and at last the Americans were glad to take refuge on the propeller, minus the man knocked down and also two others. The steamer had to leave without them."

DYING STRAINS.—Chopin, feeling the approach of death, wished to bid a last farewell to the instrument which had given utterance to his poetic inspirations, and had been the means of his great success. A piano was brought to his bedside. With icy hands and clouded vision, he attempted to draw a few sounds from the instrument. A sweet and touching melody, deeply expressive of regret, was whispered forth; but the musician was unable to complete his pathetic improvisation. He fell back on his bed of suffering, and expired a few hours afterwards. La-blache, the incomparable artist, the worthy man par excellence, who is still regretted by the musical world, attempted to sing upon his death-bed, in order as he said, to die as he had always lived, devoted to his art. "Go," he said to one of his children, "go to the piano and accompany me."
The son, struggling to conceal his emotion, obeyed
his father's last request. Lablache then sang the first verse of the English romance—"Home, sweet Home." At the second verse the singer's throat contracted, and not a note could issue from
it. "Ah!" said Lablache, "I can sing no longer.
I am a lost man!" He died that very night.—
Dickens' "All the Year Round."

OUBLIETTES IN FRENCH CHATEAUX.—In the chateau of Clisson are still visible the "oubliettes"
which often disgraced the architecture of mediæ-val castles. Mr. Lowth says in "The Wanderer in Western France":—"Close to the apartments of the ladies of the family were the oubliettes. These were frightful chasms between the walls, narrow, and of immense depth—all the lower part, perhaps 60 feet, worked down through the solid rock. There they are now. Imagine, fair lady, that immediately outside of your drawing-room wall is an awful place, dark and terrible where life is taken, commonly from unfortunates
precipitated into the yawning and gloomy depth and there left, crushed and alone, to gasp out the remaining hours—if any remain! What a horrible incongruity! Delicate and beautiful women on one side of the wall—Marguerite de Poix from her beauty called Sein de Lys; and on the other a trap-door opens, a last murmured appeal for mercy is heard, and then a fall of some heavy object—a dull, smothered sound—a groan—the trap-door closes—and the ladies go quietly to bed and dream of pleasant things. These were rough days. There is the dungeon of the women.
It is a considerable chamber, perhaps 20 feet broad, below the surface of the rock, round which are small prison cells. Above this is a similar chamber—the chamber of execution. From the ceiling, in the centre of the vaulted roof, depends a long iron hook; to this were suspended the wretched females, from the prisons below, when judged. Above this horrid chamber was again a third, of an equal size—the chamber of justice.
Here these poor women were judged—one cannot call it tried. One easily imagines the unhappy creatures, the summary proceedings at the examination in this hall of justice—not much law—and the simple sequel, 'Let her be hanged.'"

THE SUFFERER'S BEST FRIEND.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most simple and certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many maladies resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. In all diseases it is of primary importance to set the stomach right. These Pills are purifiers, alternatives, and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances. Though powerfully tonic, and satisfactorily aperient, they are mild in their operation, and beneficial to the whole system.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesale effect exercised by these admirable
Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm
in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness.
Their general aperient qualities well fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities
from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons, while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

To Regain Health, Strength and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," and there are so many causes
at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known, should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids
and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Old Coughs, Colds and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted in their action by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectually twice a day upon the throat and chest, and keeping those parts covered with the preparation, will be found the most effectual remedy for asthma, coughs, colds, bronchitis, and influenza.
These remedies tranquilize the hurried breathing,
soothe the irritated air-tubes, and assist in dislodging the phlegm which stops up the air-passages. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficacious in not only curing old settled colds, but asthma of many years standing, and even when patients who were in so bad a state as not to be able to lie down on their beds lest they be choked with phlegm.

Derangement and Distention of the Bowels, Flatulency, Diarrhoea
and Dysentery.

Any symptoms of the above complaints should be immediately met by appropriate doses of these Pills, according to the printed directions; delay may be followed by disastrous consequences. These Pills are a certain remedy for all the ailments of the alimentary
canal, they secure the thorough digestion of the food, and act most kindly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. As a household medicine they are unrivalled, and should always be at hand.

Very Important, of Costiveness
Beware.

Rarely but little notice is taken of costiveness, yet,
at certain periods, it is a sure sign that danger is near.
All who are seized with apoplexy and paralysis, have previously suffered from costiveness. In the former case the blood flies to the head, a small vein is ruptured on the brain, and we know the rest. Let wives counsel their husbands, and husbands their wives, never to go to bed a second night, if the bowels have not been properly moved during the day, particularly if they feel heavy and drowsy. A few gentle doses of these fine Pills will regulate the circulation of the blood, and all dangerous symptoms.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world
for the following diseases:—
